Summary

Base: All respondents

		Statements
		Homelessness is the biggest issue in UK housing: bigger than supply, rental costs, social housing costs or rental housing standards	Homelessness has affected me, someone in my family or someone that I know	Private rents are too high for me to afford	People in social housing should be able to move anywhere in the UK - especially to homes that are lying empty	I am prepared to relocate out of my borough in order to get more affordable social housing	The UK does not build enough social houses	The government should use the private rental sector for social housing tenants where there is a shortage of social housing
